“ My husband and I would like to express our sincere sympathy to the family and friends of your beloved Cora Lee. Although we never had the opportunity to meet Cora in person we are related in the truth. We have so much to look forward to very soon. On January 26, Cora helped Jehovah make a reply to satan the devil by saying, " Look and see, my loyal and faithful daughter." Her reward, her name, entered in the book of life, awaiting the resurrection. Share your memories with each other for the memories shared are the ones most truly cherished especially if shared together. May the warmth and love of our brothers and sisters bring a sense of peace and joy to your hearts as you begin to heal. Take care of yourselves and each other. May Jehovah comfort you through this difficult time (Psalm 34:18)
