“ We miss you Donald, daily. You never gave up and fought daily to get stronger and healthier. It was an honor/privelege to be your therapist. I miss talking to you and joking with you. I hope you're girls are well - miss them too!! xox

“ I am so very glad for the opportunity to get to know Donald over the last year or so. As his nurse I saw him in the twilight of his life, as his body began to fail him and he had to come to terms with things he could not change. The thing about Don was that his weakness never diminished his strength. Strength of character and courage and kindness and just plain manliness. They don't make men like him anymore. Not much anyway. He made a picture book for my grandson who has cerebral palsy so he could practice his words. He was glad to be able to do it. I just fell in love with the guy. And his wonderful family. Thank you for sharing your father with us. We are richer for it.
