“ No time to wast but, to cherish all those beautiful moments i had with each of you. Our time was precious and no one can take that away. Those precious moments are one of a kind gift that God has given us just for now. there will be more to come when that time comes for now they are just momories but, soon they will be precious moments that will last for eternal. love mom

“ Miss you my little ones. Always on my mind. Love you. (Loving Arms) Come along with me my little ones, if only you had made it you would be in my loving arms. Your stay was short but, enough to have loved you. What mother has had the joy to hold in her arms her two loving little ones but, there is no place like home. will never forget you. Love you with all my heart. Love mom

“ No one kows the pain but me. How could i be told that it's going to be alright when i kown it won't be. I only know the pain to you when I had you. I can not compare that pain to the pain of not being able to hold you and have you here with me. The pain of a broken heart can not compare to a pain that will go away in a few hours. A broken heart will not heal wehn broken in pieces. I only the my pain. I LOVE YOU MY LITTLE ON. MOM
