

Jean Hillard Gibson

July 23, 1945 - April 16, 2023

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

MO

“ Without Jean I don't think I would've had my love for holidays as I do now. I was so lucky to have met her and been invited to the family functions. After my first Easter at her house I went and did my own adult Easter egg hunt and I have continued them for employees and family throughout my life. I also had never been to large family gatherings as an adult until her and Paul's place. She taught me I didn't need to use regular sour cream for onion dip, that non fat tasted alright as well. I enjoyed cleaning the kitchen with her too 😂 I remember she once sent me a Christmas card when I least expected it and it made my day. I have videos on tape from holidays at the house; hopefully sooner than later I'll get them digitized for all to enjoy. She's definitely been in my thoughts and on my mind and I have talked about her throughout the years, all good things. I'm sad she's left the earth but I'm positive she's always going to be watching over her baby boy Jared.

---

Midgie O'Bryan - April 27, 2023 at 04:13 PM

PR

“ While Jean was born a Hillard, lived most of her life as a Gibson she will always and forever be a part of the Cross family. My kids and grandkids spent memorable Easters hunting Easter eggs and wonderful Christmas festivities with the Gibsons. I personally miss Jean greatly. She and I, while living miles apart, would text each other funny memes or just a Good Morning! I still see something funny and my first thought is I want to send this to Jean.

Thank you Jean for being a part of my life I will miss you but the memories you've created will remain alive in all our hearts. PS. Make sure you ask for glittery wings and where that pool boy might be. Say hi to Paul.

---

Peggy Reiner - April 27, 2023 at 02:51 PM