

Kristee Renee Moseli

August 5, 1984 - October 28, 2014

Kristee was born on a beautiful summer day on August 5th, 1984 to parents Michele Brown and Christopher Bell. She attended schools in both Lathrop and Manteca, California, graduating from East Union High School in 2002. Kristee had many strengths, with music and the sciences among them. She earned a full scholarship for her vocal ability to California State University Stanislaus in Turlock, California. It was during this time in Turlock, Kristee met the love of her life, Abraham Moseli, and followed her heart and became a strong Christian.

She completed a few years of college before happily deciding to marry Abe in January 2005. They moved to Great Lakes, Illinois and she became a Navy wife. On June 10th, 2006, Abe and Kristee excitedly welcomed their first child, Isaac into their family. During her time in Illinois, she met many new wonderful friends doing child care from their home for Army families. Kristee loved children and helping the other families in the military and they loved her in return. She and Abe were later stationed in Dahlgren, Virginia for a short period, but their final destination, for the remaining time Abraham was in the Navy, was in San Diego. Kristee was hired for child care at the base, where she continued to befriend many military families and work with the children she so dearly loved.

Kristee decided to return to college, and followed her passion to become a nurse. She graduated from National University in October 2012 with her Bachelors of Science in Nursing and went on to receive her public health nurse credentials. When Abe finished his second term with the Navy, they decided to buy a house and move back to Turlock, where they had met and fell in love. Kristee continued to make friends and help many elderly patients as a nurse, including those veterans she honored and respected. Kristee worked at Covenant Home Health Care where she assisted patients in their home setting, providing the best care possible with the utmost love and passion.

Kristee was suddenly taken from this Earth on October 28th, but we know she is safe and resting in Gods arms, as she was a strong believer and He sustained her through her everyday life. She loved to sing Christian music, spend time with her family, and was a devoted wife and mother. Kristee was a 49ers fan and loved See's candy.

Kristee is preceded in death by her grandparents, James and Judith Brown, and Christopher Bell Sr. She is survived by her loving husband, Abraham Moseli, their son, Isaac, her parents, Chris and Rose Bell and Michele and Michael Risso, siblings Camile Bell, Dustin Bell, Chaz Conner, Nicolis Risso, and Jared Bell, grandmother, Patricia Bell, and many other beloved family and friends.

Not only was Kristee beautiful to behold, but more importantly, her spirit was beautiful and will live on forever in the memories of those who knew and miss her.

“ Kristee I am so proud and fortunate to have been your Mother for the last thirty years. You were such a good baby, a precocious and intelligent child and grew into such a loving and amazing adult (and child of Christ) and I know you are in the arms of God know. You have left an amazing legacy and have done so many good works in Christs name I know you are receiving the reward of Paradise with your Heavenly Father. I will miss your beautiful smile, silly faces and soft heart, and will ache for you here on Earth. I will work the rest of my days to look forward to be reunited with my daughter and Mom and Dad to rejoice in our Heavenly reunion. Until we meet again- I'll be missing you💞
