“ I just decided to Google an old friend I used to work with at a bakery here in Iceland. And I found this...

Damn... :/

“ Steve was one of the nicest people I have ever worked with. I learned never to sit next to him in a meeting though as he would always make me laugh - and then I would get the icy stares because he would look instantly serious. I feel very fortunate to have known him. I know he is on a wonderful hike in heaven.

“ I met Steve when he came to teach at EHS. I was teaching auto shop. I took an immediate liking to Steve not knowing that we would become not only colleagues, but good friends.

I was surprised that Steve wasn't a shop teacher, as he liked cars and mechanical things. I had a number of Steve's students and they did quite well in my program. Steve enjoyed taking my final exams and always wanted to know how he did with the rest of the students. (Quite well as a matter of fact; considering he hadn't studied any of the material.)

We worked on Steve's car in the shop, and after I retired, he would come to my ranch if he needed help. He was real proud of his pickup.

Steve enjoyed coming out to my almond ranch and riding the quads along the Touloumne river. I had a toy fox terrier named Lucy that Steve loved. (I consider dog lovers to have a bit more character than other people). Lucy loved running with the quad, chasing "critters", and sticks. Steve loved playing with her. For a small dog, Lucy was quite fast. Steve called her "super dog". I think he loved Lucy as much as I did. I lost Lucy and got another dog. One day I commented that Pickles was as fast as Lucy. Steve disagreed. In his eyes there wasn't another dog that could touch Lucy.

In 2000 I fell off a ladder and severely injured my feet. I was off work half a year. Steve came to see me quite often. He was a lot of company when I needed it and was a very caring person.

A couple of times Steve and I went to the hills to just ride around. He was always a lot of fun to go places. We both enjoyed the outdoors.

I sold Steve a generator about a year ago. It ran, but was pretty beaten up. A few months later he came by to show it to me. He had fixed it up and repainted it. It looked like factory new. He was really *proud of the job he had done.

I think another reason we both got along so well is that we were both very fortunate: both Steve and I loved our jobs.*

You had a wonderful Son and Brother that touched many people and left fond memories with many. My deepest sympathy to Steve's family.

“ As Steve leaves us, the world is a little dimmer today, not quite as bright, not quite as fun. Like so many of us I feel privileged to have met Steve and was able to call him a friend. We're all a little better for having known Steve. He will never be forgotten. Our thoughts and prayers are with his family at this time.

“ It's still hard to believe, especially when I look at your photo. I have so many happy memories and amazing stories in my head and I will keep your memory alive by sharing them with everyone and letting them either remember you or wish they had known you. Thanks for the memories my friend!

“ I worked with Steve for several years. He always had something funny to say that would have me in stitches. Steve had an amazing talent for working with students, and he had a positive impact on those in his class. I was very saddened to hear of his loss. My thoughts and prayers are with his family.

“ Mr. Gogo was my teacher (Christine) and he was so kind and dedicated. He was an awesome teacher and helped lead me in the career that I now enjoy. I (Gino) taught with Steve at the high school and have great memories of his unique humor. God has a special place for those who struggle with the difficulties of this world. An eternity awaits each of us and we look forward to a reunion with Steve and other loved ones soon and very soon.

“ Our dear friend Steve:

You were not just a friend to us, you were like our brother. We have shared unbelievable times that we will never forget. You left us too soon and you will always remain in our hearts. We will always have lots of "Gogo" stories to share with our kids! You had a magnetic personality and people were drawn to you. We will find comfort with your loss knowing you are in God's hands. Miss you!

*Love,
Ed and Shummy*
