“ " An Irish Blessing"
May the road rise to meet you. May the wind be always at your back. May the sun shine warm upon your face. And rains fall soft upon your fields. And until we meet again, may God hold you in the hollow of His hand! Love Laura

“ I will never forget the night I helped you into bed, got you situated, then I leaned down, kissed your cheek and told you "Good night", and "I Love You." As I was leaving the room you stopped me, by saying "thank you Son" and, "I just want you to know I appreciate everything you've been doing". And then you said "I know it isn't easy taking care of your old Mom". The tears in my eyes and the lump in my throat kept me from saying what I really meant to say, but somehow I managed, "You're my Mom, It's what I'm supposed to do". And I went to my room. I am still haunted by you thanking me for that which I felt was my duty, despite anything else in my life, being with you, when you needed me, was where I was meant to be, and I wouldn't trade that time with you for anything in the world, and I hope that you know that everything I did for you I did with love, simply because you are my Mom and I love you. I Love you Mom ! And I am missing you so much. Your Son, Johnny Allen Downs

“ Dear Sylvia and family,
I just found out today about your mom. I am so very sorry, and want you to know that you are all in my thoughts. I am unable to make the service but will be thinking of you tomorrow. She was a very special person and I have great memories of her.

“ Its only been a few days and each harder than the last. To tell the truth its hard to believe that your really gone. I know each day will get better its just hard to tell myself that now. Loving memories we have made thru life will help to ease the pain. Theres is no hole in my heart left behind cause its still the spot for you. I know your still beside me and your watching over me, And i will always know in the strange small wind thats its you reminding me your there. I have so many thankyou.. and way too many to list. You always know i love you and that I thankyou everyday for everything you've done along the way. So I know i dont have to say good bye cause your never that far away. Good luck upon your journey and I will see you again someday. So I know I will cry but thats okay, cause I still miss having your here.
